Headmaster's Message

SPCS Families,

It is hard to walk around campus without feeling the JOY of the Season. Classrooms are decorated, songs are sung, and many crafts are made to celebrate this special time of year! In the forefront of it all is the recognition that it is His time.

I want to congratulate the students that participated in this week's school spelling bee. There were many hard words, but their practice and dedication were obvious. Good luck to those that will represent SPCS at the district level in March.

Next week, we will celebrate with a special chapel service. It will be uplifting to join together and sing His praises. Don't forget your student can dress in Christmas attire on Wednesday to make the day even more memorable.

“The true light, which gives light to everyone, was coming into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made through him...” John 1:9-10

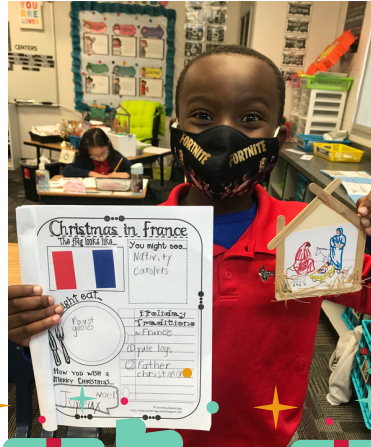

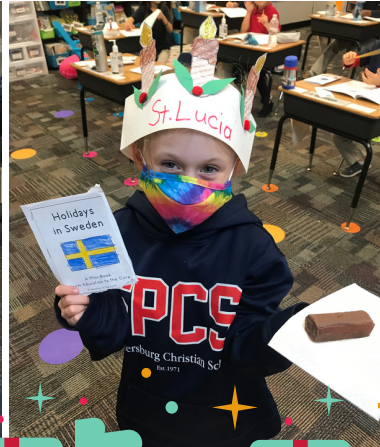

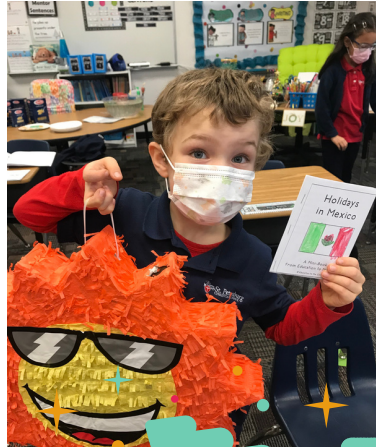

Enjoy your weekend!

1st Grade Continues Their Journey

Our 1st Graders continue to experience Christmas traditions from around the world. This week they visited Sweden and made crowns with candles for St. Lucia Day. In Mexico, they sang Feliz Navidad, enjoyed the treats and prizes from a piñata and learned about the poinsettia. While in France they ate Yule logs, and made this nativity scene
